The Just Energy Transition Project Management Unit (JET PMU), in the Presidency, is pleased to invite you to a dedicated Stakeholder Engagement Session with the Business Community to discuss the implementation progress, challenges, and next steps regarding South Africa's Just Energy Transition (JET).

This engagement forms part of an ongoing commitment to ensure that the business community is an active and informed partner in South Africa's JET and aims to foster an open discussion, share knowledge, and support strategic alignment among stakeholders.

The session will provide an opportunity to share progress on the implementation of the JET and to discuss emerging challenges and developments in the context of evolving national and geopolitical dynamics. The JET PMU will also provide clarity, address sector-specific concerns, and strengthen collaboration between government, business, and stakeholders across the energy landscape.
